

Understands the Limitations and Use of Situational Awareness – Field Visit Worksheet

Circle appropriate response after observing the behaviour:

Topic	Score
Individuals are observed approaching risk assessments during Task-Based Risk Assessments from various perspectives, including other people or other professions' perspectives	1 – Very poor application of Situational Awareness 2 – Poor application of Situational Awareness 3 – Average application of Situational Awareness 4 – Good application of Situational Awareness 5 – Excellent application of Situational Awareness
Individuals observed talking about and sharing Mental Models of the work prior to starting it	1 – Very poor application of Situational Awareness 2 – Poor application of Situational Awareness 3 – Average application of Situational Awareness 4 – Good application of Situational Awareness 5 – Excellent application of Situational Awareness
Stopping and looking around when initially entering an area where work is planned to be done	1 – Very poor application of Situational Awareness 2 – Poor application of Situational Awareness 3 – Average application of Situational Awareness 4 – Good application of Situational Awareness 5 – Excellent application of Situational Awareness
Stopping and looking around in the middle of a task to see if anything has changed Identifying the elements of the work or things within the workplace that they must pay attention to, as they undertake a task	1 – Very poor application of Situational Awareness 2 – Poor application of Situational Awareness 3 – Average application of Situational Awareness 4 – Good application of Situational Awareness 5 – Excellent application of Situational Awareness
Total	